Hunting area

In 1995, the Braslav Lakes National Park was established in a unique natural area of the Belarusian Lake District. The largest lake district in Belarus is famous for its landscapes and reliefs created by the Ice Age. The district has about 300 lakes and bodies of water, which differ in shape, area, depth, composition and visibility, as well as in the variety of flora and fauna. The entire area covers an area of about 223,000 hectares, of which about 100,000 hectares are swamps. The native game species in the district are elk, roe deer, wolves, lynx and numerous bird species. However, the area is known for the highest population of elk in Belarus.

At the airport in Minsk or Vilnius, you will be met by our partner's employees and will be helped with the entry formalities. In all these years, there have never been any significant problems. Minsk is served daily by many western airlines and if you book early, you can get fairly inexpensive tickets.

Wild Species

Elk hunting - this is a dream for many hunters that can be realized here in Belarus. This hunt for the largest species of deer in the world is exciting and incomparable. Today Belarus has taken on the leading role in elk hunting. Hunting areas such as the Braslav Lake District are known far beyond the country's borders and attract 'elk hunting enthusiasts' every year from September onwards. Hunting this prehistoric-looking game is probably a highlight in every hunter's hunting life. With a shoulder height of over 2 metres and a body weight of several hundred kilograms, the elk is many times larger than even the strongest Carpathian deer. The elk are the European population, with the ratio of shovelers to elk being 40:60.

The expected trophy weights are between 7 and 10 kg. The strongest stag weighed over 14 kg. In frosty weather in particular, the elk - similar to the red deer - call very well and the professional hunters will then try to bring them within shooting distance of the rutting bulls. It should be noted that the bulls already shed their eggs at the end of November. During the rut (depending on the weather and hunting area in September), the elk concentrate in certain places in the huge hunting grounds. These places have been known to the local hunting guides for years and our guests therefore have excellent prospects of success.
