Red stag hunt 2024
Premium private territory / Romania

Hunters from all over the world have always been drawn to the Carpathians. The reputation precedes the marvellous landscape and the unique game populations. The magic casts a spell over everyone. Once you have mastered one of the strenuous stalks, you can no longer escape the magic of the Carpathians. Even today, the rut, which usually begins around 18 September, is the best time to hunt an old stag. This is because you can only spot the stag in the rustic forests by listening to its rutting calls. Even if the hunt demands a lot from the hunter, the sight of the capital stag is all the more satisfying. Antler weights of between 8 kg and 11 kg are realistic. Even stags weighing more than eleven kilograms fall again and again. In addition to experience and skill, the determination of the respective huntsman also plays a decisive role here. And last but not least, the necessary pinch of luck must be added. Regardless of the trophy, the hunt for a mature stag in the Carpathians is certainly the crowning glory of red deer hunting. In our excellent local hunting grounds, hunters' dreams come true!

In our first-class privately managed hunting grounds, the antler weights of mature red deer are between 8.5 kg and 12 kg. Here it is not unusual for a red deer to be stretched to 10 kg or more. Hunting red deer in the Carpathians only makes sense during the rut. If you want to hunt red deer in Romania, please plan your trip so that you arrive between 21 and 23 September and allow yourself 6 days. During your stay, you will stay in good hotels or comfortable guesthouses where you will have everything you need for a cosy hunting trip. Romania is one of the most interesting hunting countries in Europe and hunting in the Carpathians is still something very special today. We and our local partners know the best Carpathian hunting grounds. When you make your booking, we will pass on your individual wishes to our partner, who will then select the most suitable hunting ground according to your preferences and wishes. The hunting grounds vary depending on the level of difficulty and trophy quality. As a rule, they are mid-mountain hunting grounds that demand a lot from the guest physically.

However, it is possible to hunt for big game in easily
